

Boardriders, Inc. Announces Quiksilver Leadership Change

HUNTINGTON BEACH, CALIFORNIA, USA – September 24, 2021 – Boardriders, Inc., a leading global action sports and lifestyle company that designs, produces, and distributes branded apparel, footwear, and accessories under the Quiksilver, Billabong, ROXY, DC Shoes, RVCA, Element, and VonZipper brands announced publicly today that Garry Wall, Global General Manager Quiksilver, will be leaving Boardriders.

After much consideration, Garry has decided to move back to Australia and will be leaving Boardriders after an impressive 28 years with the business. Over the last several years, Garry has successfully led the Quiksilver brand and relocated his family from Australia first to the USA and then more recently to the Boardriders' European headquarters.

Mr. Wall said: "I have been privileged to work for amazing brands with incredibly talented people. I have made lifelong friends and wonderful memories from experience in our three key global offices. As I start my next journey, I look forward to returning to Australia and spending time with family and friends."

Arne Arens, Chief Executive Officer of Boardriders, said: "We want to thank Garry for his dedication to the success of the Quiksilver brand, its people and heritage. Garry has played an integral role in the success of Quiksilver brand and story over the last three decades."

According to Mr. Arens, "Garry will continue in his current role until March 2022 to ensure a successful transition to a new leader. We will have more to say about a new leader for Quiksilver in the future. While Garry will be transitioning from his role, we greatly appreciate his partnership and legacy he will leave."
